

BARN QUILT DESIGN COMPETITION

Virginia Cooperative Extension-Franklin County is excited to announce the “Barn Quilt Design Competition”. Barn quilts are a valued part of Franklin County’s heritage and the VCE office hopes to keep that tradition alive for future generations. The design that wins will best represent the diversity and essence of Franklin County. Designs should be submitted on 8 ½ x 11 paper. Each design should represent all attributes of the county (beauty, design, and heritage). The design will possibly be used at a future date to hang in the county.

Designs will be accepted beginning August 1st through September 7th at the Virginia Cooperative Extension – Franklin County Office in Rocky Mount. The designs will be judged at the Franklin County Agricultural Fair. The winning design will be announced on September 13, 2017.
